

Ericsson Mobility World Germany

Certificate

The Ericsson Mobility World offers its Associate Forum members the unique opportunity to test applications designed for mobile environments. Quantitative results of mission-critical situations verify processes and concepts already at an early stage in development.

This test has been performed using GATE, the GPRS Application Test Environment using reproducible infrastructure traffic scenarios based on experience with already deployed GPRS networks. More information at <http://www.ericsson.de/mobilityworld/>.

We hereby certify that the application
